

Strengthening climate change awareness in Vanuatu

A one day workshop to enhancing climate change awareness and COP26 preparations in Vanuatu through building the capacity of media and communications professionals

Date: Thursday 21st October, 2021

Time: 8.30 – 4.30

Venue: Grand Hotel

Time	Activity	Detail
8.30 – 9.00	Registration, opening and setting the scene activity	Introductions and building the base for learning
9.00 – 10.00	Climate change politics and the social-economic-environmental ramifications for Vanuatu's people	Helping to understand climate change politics and social and economic aspects fully and dispel any myths or misunderstandings
10.00 – 10.20	Morning tea break
10.20 – 11.00	Climate change: International, Regional, National	What happens at the global level and how this is linked to work at the regional and national level
11.00 – 11.30	Vanuatu media: Our challenges and support we need	Understanding the Vanuatu media challenges when it comes to climate change, learning more about what Vanuatu media would like and how we can help
11.30 – 12.30	Information overload: Climate science and credible sources	Climate change science 101, the different reports available and local sources of content
12.30 – 1.00	Lunch
1.00 – 2.00	Vanuatu climate change: Impacts, actions, mitigation - NDC	Understanding work underway at the national level in Vanuatu to address national impacts which link to regional and international efforts
2.20 – 2.40	Afternoon tea break
2.40 – 3.30	Our journey ahead: Vanuatu's preparations to COP26 and beyond	Building the base for national contacts, understanding what is happening during the national pre-COP sessions and actual COP26 and beyond – establishing mentors and plans ahead.
3.30 – 4.00	Capturing it all	Free discussion to cover any final parts that Vanuatu media and communications officers may need so they feel confident in reporting climate change issues and the COP26 meeting.
4.00 – 4.30	Review of the day	Final evaluation and wrap up.

Note – all sessions are ‘on the record’ and this training is also to be an opportunity for Vanuatu Media to develop news